RESEARCH PROJECTS

Improving Services and Policies for Incarcerated Mothers and Their Children in Illinois 2018-Present

University of Chicago. Using the life history calendar to explore the experiences of incarcerated mothers in order to improve services and policies that promote positive relationships with their children, in response to the Illinois Women's Correctional Services Act of 2017. Role: Methods

Consultant (Dr. Gina Fedock and Dr. Amy Dworsky, co-PIs). Funded by the Chapin Hall Center for Children: $89,000.

Using the Life History Calendar to Assess IPV, Labeling, and Stigma across Relationships among Young Women 2017-Present

Michigan State University. Using the life history calendar to assess intimate partner violence (physical, coercive control, and sexual), labeling, and stigma across relationships within a diverse sample of 150 young women from university, two-year college, and high-risk community settings. Data will be analyzed using multilevel modeling. Role: Principal Investigator (Dr. Deborah Bybee, co-I). Funded by the School of Social Work: $8,560.

Piloting the Life History Calendar to Examine Dating Violence Predictors, Types, and Dynamics over Time 2014-Present

Michigan State University. Using the life history calendar approach to measure cumulative victimization and adversity over time as predictors of adolescent intimate partner violence victimization and perpetration within a sample of 150 young adult women from university, two-year college, and high-risk community settings. This approach yields both qualitative and quantitative data, which will be analyzed using grounded theory and multilevel modeling, respectively. Role: Principal Investigator (Dr. Deborah Bybee, co-I). Funded by the MSU Faculty Initiatives Fund: $9,240.

Integrating Health IT to Develop a Patient-centered Approach to Medication Management 2013-2014

Michigan State University. A feasibility study to examine how vulnerable patients' use of a mobile application will empower them to play a more active role in managing their medications and health, enhance communication with care providers, and improve patient outcomes. The study employs both qualitative and quantitative methods. Role: Research Consultant (Dr. Erin Sarzynski, PI). Funded by the MSU-Sparrow Center for Innovation and Research: $75,000.

A Preliminary Study of Coerced Debt in Abusive Relationships 2013-2014

Michigan State University and University of Texas at Austin. A pilot study to evaluate the feasibility of the life history calendar approach for examining intimate partner violence (including physical, psychological, and economic abuse) and the specific role of coerced debt, in the lives of 30 women. Results will inform an NSF proposal. Role: Methods Consultant (Dr. Adrienne Adams and Angela Littman, JD, co-PIs). Funded by the School of Law, University of Texas at Austin: $1,000.

Piloting an Innovative Method to Assess Adolescent Mothers' History of Co-occurring Violence Exposure 2007-2009

Michigan State University. A pilot study to evaluate the feasibility of using the life history calendar method to assess for co-occurring community, family, and partner violence, and the relationships between violence exposure and current outcomes, within a sample of 60 adolescent mothers. Latent growth curve analysis and multilevel modeling piloted as analytic strategies. Role: Principal Investigator. Funded by the MSU Intramural Research Grant Program: $30,608.

Adolescent Sexual Assault Victims' Experiences with SANE-SARTs and the Criminal Justice System 2008-2009

Michigan State University. Collaborated with the Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE) program and the Sexual Assault Response Team (SART) in Macomb and Calhoun counties to conduct a mixed-methods study that examined service provision to adolescent victims, assessed if and how these programs contributed to increased police reporting and prosecution rates, and explored the experiences of adolescent sexual assault victims. Role: Co-Investigator (Dr. Rebecca Campbell, PI). Funded by the National Institute of Justice: $319,921.

Adolescent Sexual Assault Victims' Help-seeking 2007-2008

Michigan State University. Collaborated with the Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE) program and the Sexual Assault Response Team (SART) in Macomb and Calhoun counties to examine services provided to adolescent victims by these interventions, and assessed if and how these programs contributed to increased police reporting and prosecution rates. Data provided critical information to partners on how SANE-SART programs can improve outreach to adolescent sexual assault victims. Role: Co-Investigator (Dr. Rebecca Campbell, PI). Funded by the MSU Families and Communities Together Coalition: $50,000.

Violence Against Women Research and Outreach Initiative 2006-2009

Michigan State University. Built collaborative relationships with other violence against women researchers at MSU. Developed a mixed-methods pilot study that examined cumulative violence exposure, homelessness, and mental health and school outcomes among pregnant and parenting adolescents at four community-based sites in Michigan. Role: Co-Principal Investigator (Dr. Cris Sullivan, PI). Funded by MSU Office of the Vice President for Research and Graduate Studies: $548,879 over three years.

Cumulative Violence Needs Assessment

2003-2004

Chicago. Worked in collaboration with the Center for Impact Research and a charter high school on a needs assessment for the school. Examined issues such as community violence, family violence, partner violence, sexual abuse, and sex-trade participation among predominantly poor and low-income African American and Latino/a students at the school. Responsible for co-developing the questionnaire and conducting the data analysis. Role: Research Consultant (Jody Raphael, JD, PI). Funded by the Chicago Foundation for Women: $5,000.
